

Mi Calendario: A Personal Calendar Project!

Using our knowledge earned over the Calendar unit, we created personal calendars that demonstrated our understanding of the days of the week (dotw), numbers 1-31, the months, and seasons in Spanish. Students had the choice of using a template online or creating one by hand.

Below are the IB formatted lesson plan and two examples of student work!

Unit Essential Question:	Area of Interaction:
How do I talk about the classroom in Spanish?	Human ingenuity

MYP Lesson Title / Concept:
Assessing what I know: Personal Calendar Project
Standards:
MLC.INT1C Demonstrate Novice-Low proficiency in listening, viewing and reading comprehension. MLC.IP1A Use basic greetings, farewells, and expressions of courtesy. MLC.CCC5B Identify community and Internet resources.
CCGPS Literacy Standards:
Essential Questions:
How do I make a calendar in Spanish? How do I use accents in Spanish on the computer?

Opener/Hook:	Differentiation:
Students asked to quiz one another on new vocabulary. Then, using previous dotw/months vocabulary to see if students can combine information to create meaning.
Mini Lesson:	Differentiation:

Remind students we will be making a calendar as part 2 of our test (part 1 was a make-your-own-test assignment completed last class). Go over expectations in the lab. Discuss what to do when finished.	Rubric, instructions, more at http://tinyurl.com/senordoyle
Work Session:	Differentiation:
Students taken to LAB to begin work on their calendar. When finished, students must print final work. -Final step, present their calendar in Spanish to Sr. Doyle. Will be asked questions about “what dotw is ‘el quince de febrero’” to check for understanding.
Closing:	Differentiation:
Students will review their calendars with a partner and share what they learn.

Assessment:
Participation, written and oral assessment for a grade.
